choose-and-cut Christmas tree farms in California. For more than a half century, families have made our farm part of their holiday tradition — picking out their favorite tree, cutting it down themselves, and taking it home to make it the centerpiece of their celebration. You can spend as much or as little time as you like, walking among our conifer forests and oak groves while enjoying the country air, the scent of pine and cedar, and peaceful views of the hills and the Monterey Bay from the highest points. You may see deer, squirrels, rabbits and both native and migratory birds as you walk the paths. Visiting the farm is a chance for you and your family to make memories that will last a lifetime.
